profile

With over 25 years of experience as a colorist, Anthony Harris is a respected and well-seasoned professional in the industry. Originally from Kansas City, his passion for visual storytelling led him to Hollywood, where he has enhanced films like "Life of Pi", "Stuart Little", and "Contact"; and collaborated with indie filmmakers on "In Neon Lights" and "Welcome To Mercy".

Anthony combines technical proficiency with artistic sensibility, ensuring visually stunning and emotionally resonant projects. Recently as Senior Colorist at Sony Pictures Entertainment Post Media Group, he has worked in concert on ventures across a range of budgets.

Anthony's passion for cinematic color will leave a lasting impression on audiences.
